Profile

I am a student at the Mediacollege and I am following the Full Stack Development course. I have worked on many different projects, both in teams and independently. As a result, I gained experience with programming, creating websites and applications and working together within a team. Through my work experience at Flink and Schiphol, I have learned to take responsibility independently as well as to work well with others. In addition, I like to learn new things and I want to continue to develop myself.
